Test PDF Document

This is a sample PDF created for testing PDF parsing.

This PDF contains multiple paragraphs of text to test the extraction capabilities of pdf-parse. The parser should be able to extract all text content from this document correctly.

PDF parsing is an important feature for the course assistant. It allows students to get summaries and analysis of course materials stored as PDF files.

This test document includes various text styles and formatting to ensure robust extraction. If you can read this text in the extracted output, the PDF parser is working correctly.

This is blue text.
This is red text.
This is green text.